

THE BOB CATS NEWSLETTER

FEBRUARY 1, 2008.

Welcome to another edition of the Bob Cats Newsletter. It's Friday, it's night time in the big city. The storm has passed in the night leaving cars upside down outside my window. The street is covered in broken glass and newspapers, get your biker boots and reading glass out. There will be a safari tonight. Underwear flutters on the gates of Eden, The Hot Spot. It was one of those nights with no sleep. Rain whipped to the glass and cats in the closet. It's Friday night and I just got paid.

FLASHES FROM THE PAST

I'm going down to Rose Marie's
She never does me wrong.
She puts it to me plain as day
And gives it to me for a song.
It's a wicked life but what the hell
The stars ain't falling down.
I'm standing outside the Taj Mahal
I don't see no one around.
Goin' to Acapulco
Goin' on the run.
Goin' down to see fat gut
Goin' to have some fun.
Yeah
Goin' to have some fun.
Now, whenever I get up
And I ain't got what I see
I just make it down to Rose Marie's
'Bout a quarter after three.
There are worse ways of getting there
And I ain't complainin' none.
If the clouds don't drop and the train
don't stop
I'm bound to meet the sun

GOOD NIGHT

Good night. There's no one waiting up for you.

Goin' to Acapulco
Goin' on the run.
Goin' down to see some girl
Goin' to have some fun.
Yeah
Goin' to have some fun.
Now, if someone offers me a joke
I just say no thanks.
I try to tell it like it is
And keep away from pranks.
Well, sometime you know when the well breaks down
I just go pump on it some.
Rose Marie, she likes to go to big places
And just set there waitin' for me to come.
Goin' to Acapulco
Goin' on the run.
Goin' down to see some girl
Goin' to have some fun.
Yeah
Goin' to have some fun.

They're all asleep. Spring is here and she is gone.
