

6 years running!*MAY 3, 2013.

*"Mothers and their daughters. Descending down the stairs.
Jumped into the icy waters. Love and pity sent their prayers..."*

Welcome to another edition of the Bob Cats Newsletter. It's night time in the big city. The light lingers on in the mean streets. The chaplain without a parish is leaning on a black sedan, clearing his throat. He's in a shiny black suit, torn and frayed. The black dog's tugging on his trouser leg. The boards are gone. The cracked actor and the big guy stand outside the Black Swan och looks into a mess of furniture, kitchen stuff and bricks in dust. The chaplain intonates Abide With Me, the black dog growls in harmony. The doors of the black sedan are thrown open and out steps Calcutta Joe and Maori Jim with entourage including the kid in a black leather suit. As the street car called Destiny goes by its passengers are treated to an a cappella version of Only You. The chaplain sings bass, the other guys tenor, doo-wops from passers by.

I get the blues for you baby when I look up
at the sun

I get the blues for you baby when I look up
at the sun

Come back here we can have some real fun

Well it's early in the evening and everything is still

Well it's early in the evening and
everything is still

One more time, I'm walking up on heartbreak hill

Shake, shake mama, like a ship goin' out to sea

Shake, shake mama, like a ship goin' out to

GOOD NIGHT

The night is a paper thin leaf Blowin by in the garden of your childhood
Your body remembers the blows

And all the kisses
You lie quiet as a mouse
As the summer lawn hisses
